

The Candy and Toy Store

Here comes our friend Mr. Green. He wants to tell you something. There is a new store in town. It is a candy and toy store. Because the store is new, you may win a door prize. The prize could be a book, a kite, a truck or some candy. Do you want to go? If you do, we have to hurry. We can only win the prize if we are there when they call out names. We have to run down the street past Bill's house. Then we go over the bridge. There are many cars going over the bridge so we must be careful. Next, we will turn the corner and see the big sign that says there is a new store opening. All of the people in front of the new store will be smiling and happy. A man will come out of the store. He will reach inside a big hat that has everyone's name in it. He will pull out a piece of paper and read it. Who do you think will win?
