

Interwrite Response and Clickers-Getting Started

A Quick Guide to Read before using Response and Clickers

Overview

Interwrite Response, by e Instruction, is the latest version of Interwrite PRS. This software is used to create interactive lessons that allow faculty to pose questions and receive instant feedback from their students via “clickers”. In order to use this system students must have clickers, the classroom must have the Response software and receiver, and you must have the Response software to develop clicker lessons and retrieve data. Currently, Ithaca College is using eInstruction Interwrite Response Version 6.1 on Windows and Mac.

Ordering Clickers

In order for students to participate in a course that uses clickers, they must purchase one just like a text book. Instruct can order clickers as you would text books from the bookstore. After you have ordered the clickers from the bookstore, ITS will arrange to install the hardware.
