

JONATHAN D. ABLARD, Ph.D.
Ithaca College
Department of History
Muller 403
Ithaca NY 14850
607-274-3558
jablard@ithaca.edu

EDUCATION

University of New Mexico, (Albuquerque, NM)
Ph.D., Latin American History, 2000

University of Virginia, (Charlottesville, VA)
M.A., Latin American History, 1994

Oberlin College, (Oberlin, OH)
B.A., History, 1987

EMPLOYMENT

Assistant Professor, Ithaca College (2005-present)

Assistant Professor, University of West Georgia (2000-2005)

PUBLICATIONS: Essays in Edited Volumes

“¿Dónde está el delirio?: La autoridad psiquiátrica y el estado argentina en perspectiva histórica,” in María Silvia Di Liscia and Ernesto Bohoslasky, editors, Instituciones y formas de control social en América Latina, 1880-1940 (Editorial de la Universidad Nacional de General Sarmiento, Argentina, 2005)

“The Limits of Psychiatric Reform in Argentina, 1890-1946,” in Roy Porter and David Wright, editors, The Confinement of the Insane (Cambridge University Press, 2003)

“Law, Medicine and Confinement to Public Psychiatric Hospitals in Twentieth Century Argentina,” in Mariano Ben Plotkin, editor Argentina on the Couch: Psychiatry, the State, and Society in Argentina, 1880-1970. (University of New Mexico Press, 2003)