

J. PATRICK MEISTER

ITHACA COLLEGE

VITA

NAME: J. Patrick MEISTER

ADDRESS: 12 Leisure Lane
Freeville, New York 13068

TELEPHONE: (607) 274-3883 (office)
(607) 844-3888 (home)

INTERNET E-MAIL: pmeister@ithaca.edu
plmeister@earthlink.net

CITIZENSHIP: U.S.A.

EDUCATION: Ph.D. Economics, University of Michigan, 1992
M.A. Economics, University of Michigan, 1991
B.S. Butler University, 1986 (magna cum laude)

SPECIALIZATION: Ph.D. Fields: International economics, public finance (majors); econometrics, labor economics (minors)

Research Interests: Industrial organization (especially mergers/acquisitions, R&D competition and cooperation, pricing strategy, oligopoly theory), auctions of corporations, international trade (especially quotas and tariffs), and market simulations and games

CURRENT POSITION: Assistant Professor, Ithaca College (since 2002). Responsibilities include teaching principles of microeconomics and macroeconomics, industrial organization, managerial economics, and regulation.

PUBLICATIONS: "Lessons from a Failed Airline Auction," (co-author: Kyle J.
Anderson), Economic Inquiry, forthcoming.

"A Classroom Auction with Externalities: Applied to Mergers/Acquisitions," (co-author: Kyle J. Anderson), Journal of Economic Education, forthcoming.

"A Rationale for Meeting Quotas Asymmetrically," (co-author: Robert S. Main), Atlantic Economic Journal, 30, 4, 2002, pp. 380-384.

"English vs. Sealed-Bid Auctions in an Acquisition Game," Indiana Academy of the Social Sciences, 2000.

"Oligopoly - an In-class Economic Game," Journal of Economic Education, Fall 1999.

RESEARCH IN PROGRESS

"An Oligopoly Pricing Game," mimeo, 2005.

"Economics of Bluff Bidding," mimeo, 2005.

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS:

"An In-class Auction of a Corporation," New York State Economics Association (NYSEA) annual conference, 2004

"An In-class Oligopoly Pricing Game," Teaching Economics: 14th Annual Conference (Robert Morris University), 2003.

"An Exercise in Exchange Rate Arbitrage," Indiana Academy of the Social Sciences annual meeting, 2001.

"English vs. Sealed-Bid Auctions in an Acquisition Game," (co-author: Kyle J. Anderson), Indiana Academy of the Social Sciences annual meeting, 1999.

"A Rationale for Meeting Quotas Asymmetrically," (co-author: Robert S. Main), Midwest Economics Association annual meeting, 1999.

DISSERTATION:

Title: Economic Policies for Process Innovations from Research Joint Ventures

TEACHING AWARDS:

CSTEP Mentoring Award (Ithaca College student nominated teaching award for assistance and guidance the professor provided in the life of a student), 2004.

"Outstanding Faculty Award" from Alpha Kappa Psi (Butler University Business Honorary), 2002

"An Apple for You" (Student Government Association honor, Butler University), 2000, 2001, 2002

FELLOWSHIPS:

Rackham One-year Fellowship for incoming doctoral students, Fall 1986, Winter 1987

MEMBERSHIP:

New York State Economics Association (NYSEA) – board member

PREVIOUS POSITIONS:

Visiting Assistant Professor, Butler University 1996-2002. Responsibilities include teaching introductory and intermediate courses in economics as well as managerial economics.

Visiting Assistant Professor, Indiana University, Academic year 1995-96. Responsibilities include teaching MBA courses in Antitrust Economics and Game Theory, and a senior "capstone" course.

Instructor, Indiana University - Purdue University at Indianapolis, Summer 1995, 96, 97. Responsibilities included teaching International Economics and Introductory Microeconomics.

Visiting Assistant Professor, DePauw University, Academic year 1994 - 95. Responsibilities included teaching Intermediate Macroeconomics, Introductory Economics, and a Winter term course on Education.

PREVIOUS POSITIONS:
(Continued):

Visiting Assistant Professor, Northern Illinois University,
Academic year 1993-94. Responsibilities included teaching the Ph.D.
sequence in Public Economics and Intermediate Microeconomics.