Scoring Information

Exam	Viewing Scores	Sending Scores	Canceling Scores	Score Retention	Scoring Range
GRE	Scores for Verbal and Quantitative sections are available immediately after completing the exam. Analytical Writing scores are mailed at a later time with a detailed score outline. You can also view your complete score online for free.	Send scores to up to five schools on the day the exam is taken. Additional schools and scores sent after the exam require a fee.	Test taker may void the exam at the end of the test period and the test taker cannot see their score. No schools will be able to view the score. No refunds are given for cancelled scores.	Scores are retained for five years, after which the test taker will need to re-take the exam.	130 – 170 range for each section. Analytical writing samples scored on a scale of 0 – 6.
GRE Subject	Scores are mailed to the test taker and grad schools 6 weeks after the exam. Scores can also be viewed for free online.	Send scores to up to four schools included in the test fee. Request additional scores sent to up to eight schools by going online for a fee.	Test taker may void the exam at the end of the test period and the test taker cannot see their score. No schools will be able to view the score. No refunds are given for cancelled scores.	Scores are retained for four years, after which the test taker will need to re-take the exam.	One total score is reported on a 200 to 990 score scale, in ten-point increments, although the score range for any particular test is usually smaller.
LSAT	Scores are e-mailed to test taker three weeks after the exam. Score reports sent four weeks after the exam by mail.	Request scores to be sent to schools or pre-law advisors through the LSAC website. Schools will receive an average of all scores for multiple tests taken and any cancellations of scores.	Test taker may cancel their score on the answer sheet the day of the exam, or send a request to LSAC in writing within six calendar days of the exam.	Scores are retained indefinitely by LSAC. Any exam taken prior to 2006 will not be sent to law schools.	The LSAT raw scores are calculated on the basis of the questions that have been answered correctly. The LSAT score range is from 120 to 180.
MCAT	Scores available online 30 to 35 days after the exam.	Scores are automatically released to AMCAS for tests taken after 2003. Scores can also be released electronically to non-AMCAS application service.	Test taker may void the exam at the end of the test period. Voided tests may not be “unvoided” later. No refunds are given for voided tests.	Scores are retained by AMCAS indefinitely, though most medical schools only accept scores that are 2 to 3 years old.	1 – 15 point range for each section. Analytical Writing section scored on a letter scale from J – T; J being the lowest.
GMAT	Scores may be received online or by mail. Unofficial scores are available immediately after the exam.	Send scores to up to five schools on the day the exam is taken. Additional score reports may be sent after the test for additional fees.	Test taker may cancel their exam only before viewing the unofficial scores. Cancelled exams will not be reinstated. No refunds are given for cancelled exams.	Scores are valid for five years. Scores from exams taken in the past five years will be sent to schools. Test takers must submit a special request for scores more than five years old.	GMAT composite score range from 200 – 800. Analytical writing is scored on a 0 – 6 scale and is not part of the composite score.
