Translations

Lascia ch'io pianga

Lascia ch'io pianga
Mia cruda sorte
E che sospiri
La libertà.

Let me weep
My cruel fate,
And that I should have freedom.

Il duolo infranga
Queste ritorte,
De' miei martiri
Sol per pietà

The duel infringes
within these twisted places,
in my sufferings
I pray for mercy.

Program Notes

Very few things in this world have the power to bring people together like music. The possibilities are endless when it comes to putting a program together with a powerful message. This concert, "Music for the Mind" is exactly that; a program designed not for a required grade or a flawlessly technical performance. It is designed to inspire, comfort, motivate, reflect, and send a message of love and support to anyone listening. Mental health is complicated, but it is not a scary unstoppable monster inevitably destined to conquer our world. People many times have a hard time facing fears. Whether it be fears of spiders and the dark, or a fear of the unknown, it is important to address and reflect upon them.

"Please Stay" was written by Jake Runestad, an American composer of highly imaginative and stirring and uplifting musical works. He wrote it as an anthem for hope and to help destigmatize mental illness and challenge all of us to support those who are battling depression and thoughts of suicide. The piece is emotion-provoking, but powerful and inspiring to say the least. "You Will Be Found" from Dear Evan Hansen is taken out of the musical's context and put into the context of our message of support and inspiration. The song emphasizes the fact that nobody has to be alone. Sometimes, it just takes one person to show that they care. Mental health does not deserve the stigma surrounding it, and we have the power to change that.

Each song will affect everyone differently, so let this music speak to you in whatever way you need it to.

Thank You

This evening would not have been possible without these wonderful people!
