Notes on the Program

Armenian Dances is an extended symphonic rhapsody built upon five different Armenian folk songs, freely treated and developed in terms of the modern integrated wind band. While Alfred Reed has kept his treatment of the melodies within the general limits imposed on the music by its very nature, he has not hesitated to expand the melodic, harmonic, and rhythmic possibilities in keeping with the demands of a symphonic work, as opposed to an individual vocal or choral approach to its performance. Nevertheless, it is hoped that the overall effect of the music will remain true in spirit to the work of this brilliant composer-musicologist, who almost single-handedly preserved and gave to the world a treasure trove of beautiful folk music that to this day has not yet become as widely known in the Western world as it so richly deserves. (Program note by Dr. Violet Vagramian)

Bali is divided into three main parts: the bright dance rhythms of the gamelan orchestra are the outer sections, and the middle section is a slow lament for the dead, introduced by an explosion representing the 2002 terrorist bombing of the nightclub in the island's capital, Denpasar. The offstage oboes represent peace-loving Muslims, who are the majority, grieving for the victims.

The Balinese have a unique way of dealing with tragedy: they build a spiritual monument on the spot where the event took place as an offering to the gods. Following requiem-like music we hear a gradual build-up of bright sounds representing the sun reflecting off of the icon built to the memory of the dead, which then leads to a return of the dance. (Program note by Michael Colgrass)

The Enigma Variations were written for orchestra in 1899 and bore the dedication "To My Friends Pictured Within." The theme and 14 variations belong to the period in which Elgar developed the style that placed him in the front rank of English composers. The immediate success of the opus can be attributed in part to its programmatic characteristics. The theme is pliable, plastic and expressive in itself, tender and noble. Variation I (C.A.E.) is a study of the composer's wife, Caroline Alice. Variation IV (W.M.B.) marches in with the furious energy of the country squire, William M. Baker. Variation V (R.P.A.) takes as its subject a son of Matthew Arnold. Variation XI (G.R.S.) is George R. Sinclair, organist of Hereford Cathedral. Variation IX is called Nimrod. Nimrod is the great hunter of the Bible; "hunter" in German is "Jaeger." So the subject is A.J. Jaeger, publisher. Variation XIV (E.D.U.) is the nickname for Elgar known only to his close friends. Said to depict his struggles and energies, the work is nevertheless concluded non-programmatically so that it caps the series of variations in a broad, triumphant presentation of the original theme. (Program note by Norman Smith)

The Toccata and Fugue in D Minor contains virtuosi writing combined with a recitative style that enables the performers to withdraw from a constant rhythmic pulse. Within the toccata itself there resides a freedom of tempo and technical display that is in great contrast to the formality of the various fugal statements and answers. The third part of the toccata serves as a coda-like statement containing a recitative, various changes of texture and tempo, finally arriving at a "Molto Adagio" which closes the section to create a grand A-B-A form for the work.

The Fugue draws its theme from the downward motion of the opening toccata melodic line. It proceeds through numerous development sections until finally arriving back to the free toccata-fantasia style of development. The Toccata and Fugue in D Minor is truly a masterpiece of inventiveness that displays the tonal and technical capabilities of either the organ or the wind band. (Program note by Donald Hunsberger)

As Blue Shades suggests, the work alludes to the Blues, and a jazz feeling is prevalent - however, it is not literally a Blues piece. There is not a single 12-bar blues progression to be found, and except for a few isolated sections, the eighth-note is not swung. The work, however, is heavily influenced by the Blues: "Blue notes" (flatted 3rds, 5ths, and 7ths) are used constantly; Blues harmonies, rhythms, and melodic idioms preclude the work; and many "shades of blue" are depicted from bright blue, to dark, to dirty, to hot blue.

At times, Blue Shades burlesques some of the clichés from the Big Band era, not as a mockery of those conventions, but as a tribute. A slow and quiet middle section recalls the atmosphere of a dark, smoky blues haunt. An extended clarinet solo played near the end recalls Benny Goodman's hot playing style, and ushers in a series of "wailing" brass chords recalling the train whistle effects commonly used during that era. (Program note by Frank Ticheli)

The narrative behind Migration is inspired by my wife, and her family's journey to America. As she likes to say, "No one leaves where they're from unless they believe that something better awaits them." While writing this piece she and I talked at length about the emotional journey that many immigrants experience. If you don't push yourself to dream about what awaits you, then how do you have the courage to leave behind all that you know? If you don't envision a new home where all of your hopes and dreams can be achieved, then how do you survive in a completely unfamiliar place?

Migration is in five movements:

I. March is the catalyst for change. Whether personal or political, it represents the conflict that is taking place within the country of origin.

II. Dreaming is the vision of what awaits. It is the inspiration that allows one to take the leap and begin the journey.

III. Escape represents the uprooting. Whether crossing illegally, going through Ellis Island, etc. It embodies the anxiety, hope, and fear of leaving everything behind.

IV. Crossing captures the feelings associated with leaving your homeland and entering a completely unfamiliar place.

V. Beginning represents the culmination of the journey. It is the start of a new life where anything is possible. (Program note by Adam Schoenberg)

Conductors

Dr. Christopher Hughes is Director of Bands and Associate Professor of Music for the School of Music at Ithaca College in New York. Hughes serves as conductor of the renowned Ithaca College Wind Ensemble while leading the acclaimed graduate program in wind conducting. Prior to this position, Dr. Hughes served as Director of Bands and Graduate Conducting Coordinator at NM State University and as Director of Bands and Chair of the Conducting and Ensembles Faculty for the College of Music at Mahidol University, a conservatory setting in Bangkok, Thailand. Prior to his move overseas, Dr. Hughes held positions on the faculties at Lander University in South Carolina and the University of Colorado at Boulder. Hughes's former students hold conducting and teaching positions in China, Thailand, Singapore, Malaysia, Taiwan, The Philippines, Burma, Mexico and throughout the United States.

Born on Bloomsday in Aspen, Colorado, Hughes's interest in the expressive beauty of music began early. He decided to pursue conducting as a profession after experiencing the artistry of many of the legendary conductors who were in residence at the Aspen Music School. In 2005 Hughes was awarded the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in instrumental conducting and literature at the University of Colorado at Boulder where he was a student of world-renowned conductor and Distinguished Professor Allan McMurray.

Developing an impressive profile that is both national and international, Dr. Hughes has conducted ensembles in concert on four continents including Europe, Asia, Australia and North America. He is also in constant demand as a guest conductor and clinician. Engagements have taken him to several US states, Washington, D.C. and ten foreign countries including England, Ireland, China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, Singapore, and Indonesia. In 2016 the NM State Wind Symphony performed at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Arts in Washington, D.C. as invited guest artists representing the southwest region of the United States. The ensemble performed at the 2014 NM Music Educators Association Convention and, in the October of 2015, gave the world premiere of Symphony No. 1 by Serbian composer Nebojsa Macura.

In addition to numerous performances as Resident Guest Conductor for the Thailand Philharmonic Orchestra, Dr. Hughes led the Mahidol University Wind Symphony in a critically acclaimed performance during the proceedings of the 15th World Saxophone Congress. This subsequently led to an invitation for the musicians to appear as the guest artist ensemble for the Australian National Ensemble Championships. Hughes has conducted at the Southeast Asian Youth Orchestra and Wind Ensemble Festival in Bangkok, Thailand and the Honor Ensemble Festival of the Interscholastic Association of Southeast Asian Schools in Jakarta, Indonesia. Dr. Hughes was honored to serve as guest conductor for the National Symphony Orchestra players of Taiwan during his invited visit to Chiayi City. In 2013 and again in 2014 Hughes ventured to China to conduct the Directors Ensemble of Guangzhou Province and appeared in ShanXi, ShanDong, and Chengdu provinces in as well. Known for his sensitive interpretation of music for large and small instrumental ensembles, Hughes's conducting has drawn praise from composers and conductors in the United States, Canada, Southeast Asia, China, and Australia. A champion of new music, Dr. Hughes has conducted numerous world and regional premieres and he has become a conductor of choice for contemporary works.

Dr. Hughes has, on several occasions, been included in the Who's Who Among America's Teachers publication and, for the past 13 years, he has been listed in Who's Who in America. He was recently honored with induction into Who's Who In The World. # Ithaca College Bands Ensemble Offerings

Ithaca College School of Music is proud to offer a full complement of large and chamber ensembles. Ensembles hold auditions for membership in the new three-tiered model at the beginning of the year and requirements are published well in advance. If you dream of being a professional musician, just enjoy playing an instrument, or anywhere in between, there is a place for you in IC BANDS! Included in the offerings are eight distinctive ensembles.

Wind Ensemble* (Dr. Christopher Hughes, conductor)

The IC Wind Ensemble is a band of 50 highly qualified graduate and undergraduate students, chosen by audition, and performs a varied repertoire of the highest quality literature for winds. Members of the Wind Ensemble will also perform selections of chamber winds repertoire each semester. The Wind Ensemble is dedicated to professional level performance while fostering the musical growth of its members.

Wind Symphony* (Mr. Benjamin Rochford, conductor)

The IC Wind Symphony is a select ensemble of approximately 60 musicians, chosen by audition. The Wind Symphony exists as a preparatory experience for the Wind Ensemble and provides a challenging musical environment for skilled musicians by performing repertoire that ranges from works for chamber winds, to standards of the band literature, to brand-new works for the wind band medium.

Concert Band* (Mr. Benjamin Rochford, conductor)

The IC Concert Band is an ensemble for underclassmen to learn and upperclassmen to lead the journey to professional level performance. This band provides instruction in ensemble performance skills through quality repertoire that is fit for the student, allowing her / him to have time to assimilate knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary for advancement into the Wind Symphony and Wind Ensemble or for any future musical endeavors.

Campus Band (Mr. Aaron Burgess & Mr. Gregory Harris, graduate wind conductors)

The Campus Band is a non-auditioned ensemble designed to meet the needs of students from all majors across campus. Music majors are encouraged to enroll while performing on a secondary instrument. This ensemble provides an educational experience and serves as an outlet for students who wish to remain musically active in a less intense setting. The course will be administered by the Director of Bands and conducted by the graduate conducting associates.
